[Verse 1]

You never cared to hear the other side
So why would you care to keep this thing alive
You paint me into the memory of all your pain
But I will not be drawn into the past again

[Chorus]

'Cause all of this is all that I can take
And you could never understand the demons that I faced
So go ahead and bat your eyes and lie right to the world
For everything you are
is just a little girl.

[Verse 2]

I never meant for you to feel this way
These ambers were never meant to be our graves
It's not a question of who was wrong and what is right
But time cannot heal what you will never recognize

[Chorus]

'Cause all of this is all that I can take
And you could never understand the demons that I
faced
So go ahead and bat your eyes lie right to the world

For everything you are
is just a little girl.

[Bridge]

So go ahead and cry
So go ahead and believe that you were right
Keep away the dark to help you sleep tonight

[Background]

Go on and decide
Who is wrong, what is right
'Cause you know inside

[Chorus]

'Cause all of this is all that I can take

And you could never understand the demons that I
faced
So go ahead and bat your eyes and lie right to the world
For everything you are...

'Cause all of this is all that I can take
And you could never understand the demons that I
faced
So go ahead and bat your eyes and lie right to the world
For everything you are
is just a little girl .
