I'm Not Like You
From the place where you are
Everything seems far
I've got my radar
I've got my scars

What did you say about my way?
We're not the same
My loving flame

You think it's easy
With the things you've got
If you were in my plot
You could see

That it's complicated
From my point of view
I'm not like you
I thought you knew

That it's complicated
From my point of view
I'm not like you
I thought you knew

You are my soul mate
You are all my fate
Just open the gate
I don't want to wait

We need each other
To make it easier
We just wonder
To make it harder

We're complements
Meant to be together
Now and forever
And ever

It's complicated

From my point of view
I'm not like you
I thought you knew
That It's complicated
From my point of view
I'm not like you, I thought you knew
