

Traffic

"Colours"

Visit "Colours" on MotoLyrics.com

I wanna see the day when I see the daylight in the wintertime
I guess I need something or someone to fill the void that you left in my life

It's hard for me to tell the noontide from the midnight without a 24-hour clock
And every day feels like the last one
I don't get things done
No one knows I'm alive

So I'm trying to change
It's already dark but I can't get up
If I don't get to the start
It's unlikely for me to get anywhere far

Nothing you say can ever thrill me or surprise me I got a feeling that I've heard it all before I see the colours of the rainbow
When the day dawns as I'm falling asleep

So I'm trying to change...

Visit Traffic page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.