Now we're on a little time out, yeah it was my fault
It was about that fight at the restaurant That night I blew it all I didn't mean it but it appears you're still mad at me Waking up is hard enough, I don't know how to start I gotta get my mind away from you by going to the cinema
But who am I gonna tell when I guess what happens next

We're gonna take our time to see if we'll be fine
We're gonna take our time

All I really want to hear is your voice and all I can do is to Wait for your choice Waiting for you to telephone 'cos I don't even know if you're still alone
So are you willing to get things settled?
Why don't we just work it out together?
If I can't see you how will I make it up to you?

So here I'm waiting for my trial You proved your point about the meaning of my final warning
I'm gonna break down
You don't wanna know what I've been on since I lost you So are you ready for one last go?
Is that a yes or is that a no?

We're gonna take our time to see if we'll be fine
We're gonna take our time

And all I really want to hear is your voice and all I can do is to Wait for your choice
Waiting for you to telephone 'cos I don't even know if
you're still alone
So are you willing to get things settled?
I'm running out of my alcohol collection
If I can't see you how will I make it up to you?

When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a dead end
When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a
dead end

And all I really want to hear is your voice and all I can do is to
Wait for your choice
Waiting for you to telephone 'cos I don't even know if
you're still alone
All I really want to hear is your voice and all I can do is
to
Wait for your choice
Waiting for you to telephone 'cos I don't even know if you're still alone
'Cos I don't even know if you're still alone

When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a
dead end
When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a
dead end
When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a
dead end
When we're trying to add a bit of logic in it we're in a dead end
