"Fox hunt"

it's good to see you again and I know you were drunk when you said "I can give you everything you want" and I fled like a fox in a hunt but can I put my head on your heart and say I missed you

I missed you

you've got a fancy job and new fancy friends but none of that matters to me in the end yet I breathe in an anxious pattern afraid you've steamrolled the kinks of me out of you what if I can't say "please stay" I'm not afraid, I'm not afraid

but can I put my head on your heart
and say I missed you
I missed you
I put my head on your heart and say hey, I missed you I missed you
