Since you've been gone
All the flowers don't die
What about faith
What about love
What about all that we've been through

Since you've been gone
I've nowhere left to hide
What about time
What about trust
What about all that we could do

I, everytime I close my eyes
I can see you wave goodbye

And now that you're gone
And I am still here
Tell me how to get you back
All I need is one more chance

And I'll make you see
I'll make you believe
That I can be everything
That you once have seen in me
Now that you're gone

Since you've been gone
There's a low, cold, blowing rain
What about life
What about faith
What about all the things we fear

Since you've been gone
It never felt the same
What about life
What about trust
What about all this silent tears

I, everytime I close my eyes
I can feel you by my side

And now that you're gone
And I am still here
Tell me how to get you back
All I need is one more chance

And I'll make you see
I'll make you believe
And I can be everything
That you once have seen in me

Baby when you're tired
I'll carry you away
I will be your shelter
To keep you save
Maybe there is something
That we just can't change
Baby, come home

And now that you're gone
And I am still here

And I'll make you see
And I can be everyting
That you once have seen in me

And now that you're gone
And I am still here

And now that you're gone
