There's no coming back from where we've been
You're saying, ?Different people change, get it??
What's the point in letting me
Find out like that? Yeah

Well, this is something that they don't advise Communication is the only relation
So why did I find out like that?

And you should've known better
Is that what you're saying?
I never really take advice
But from you, I'd take anything

We really connected first time I saw you
I found a reflection, at least I thought I did
A thousand ways to leave your lover
But only one to stay

And you should've known better
Is that what you're saying?
I never really take advice
But from you, I'd take anything

Well, you should've known better
Than to follow
But it's all in the way
That you gravitate into someone

You were afraid of something
I didn't understand
We separate with nothing
Do you wonder where I am?

But if you change your mind, I'm sorry
I'm so underwhelmed
(Don't even think it, don't even try)

And you should've known better
Is that what you're saying?
I never really take advice
But from you, I'd take anything

Well, you should've known better
Than to follow
But it's all in the way
That you gravitate into someone

Now, I should, I should, I should, yeah
I never really take advice
But from you, I'd take anything
