Everybody bawling, bawling for love
Everybody asking, asking for love

Everywhere you go, it's the same thing all around
No one will tell you where it leads, that is strange
Their hands on their heads, not a penny in their pockets
Nothing they do can change this life I'm living because

Everybody bawling, bawling for love
Everybody asking, asking for love

My mama and my papa, my sister and my brother
They borrow a little salt and they cannot return it at all

Cause they're all bawling, bawling for love
Everybody asking, asking for love

This is the time when we must live as one
Love and cherish each and everyone
Don't live in chains, neither live in fear

Cause they're all bawling, bawling for love
Everybody asking, asking for love
Everybody bawling...
