All I can say you know my life it's pretty plain

And all that I can do, is just pour some tea for two

And speak my point of view, but it's not sane

No it's not sane

No it's not sane

No it's not sane

It's not sane

And I don't understand why I sleep all God damn day

All that I do, is read a book to stay awake

It rips my life away

It rips my life away

And it rips my life away

And it will rip your life away
