I feel like I'm growing to old for life anymore
I realized I'm showing
The truth you never knew of before
And this cannot work like I planned
I step out and then forget where I'm going
Theres no one I can Blame
Cause the visions the same
I can see it in my head

Over and over again
Over and over again in my mind
Over and over again in my mind
It's changing and I'm coming to grips with it

I'm watching and waiting
Not sure what I'm waiting for
I know when I see it
I'll be waiting no more
And I keep on changing my plans
I step out and the
forget where I'm going
cause the visions the same
I can see it in my head

Over and Over again
Over and over again in my mind
Over and over again in my my mind
It's changing and I'm changing to grips with it

Over and Over again in my mind.
