Hey, girl!

You sing the song while sitting there and realize
You think I'm home while sitting there realize
Uhuuu, to slow the road, put your life on hold
And no come back when nowhere to go
Is not to wonder why I'm sitting there, I realize

Chorus:

You could run a red light,
Give all better red light!
You break the norms with running to the toes
Speeding through your whole life

A chance to breath while sitting there and realize
Hmm.. you look around reflecting on your life
A chance to.. have I drinking too much?
Should I keep going, lose the life that I love?
A second glass with coming to a red light

Chorus:

You could run a red light,
Give all better red light!
You break the norms with running to the toes
Speeding through your whole life
You could run a red light,
Give up on your whole life red
You break the norms with running to your toes
Speeding through your whole life

When things get low, you gotta keep strong
Speak to the press, you gotta...
We've both been tired
Too tired to ...
Beat to the ground
You gotta walk home
Walk home, realize!

Chorus: (x2)

You could run a red light,
Give all better red light!
You break the norms with running to the toes

Speeding through your whole life
You could run a red light,
Give up on your whole life red
You break the norms with running to toes
Speeding through your whole life
