someone else will meet her stay awake and read to her someone else will love her did you forget to make up?
did you suppose your lovers' quarrel would bring a renewal of your love and then forget to make up?

and you don't know if it's right or wrong
what women do to men

the room is cluttered up with christmas cards i can just barely see you the room swirls around me

it's magic
it's magic

or is it all just a trend?
the breeze carries summer scent well maybe that's why she laughs a lot do you still think we're all just magic apes and trick dust? well someone else will love her...
