If you want to be alone here with me you must understand my weakness It's the way that he left me and bereft me of of my love without a warning without mourning almost yawning
No one wants forever anymore cause no one dares to try No one wants endeavour like before
If you want to see the world that's in me
You should know I'll always need him It's the way that I met him There's no way that I could possibly forget him like he got me and forgot me No one wants forever anymore cause no one dares to try
No one wants endeavaour like before
No one wants forever anymore and no one wants to be there like I know I might have been
No one wants endeavaour like before
