"Because Of You"

If you were the sun i would look up at you,
Lie under you until you fade away.
If you were the sea I would come into you,
I would laze around in you every night and day,
And if you were the wind I would follow you
And if you were the sunset above the beach,
And if you were the star that i wish upon a night.

I would never leave you I will follow you,
It's all because of you

If you were a flower i would pick you,
Place you tenderly in my arms,
If you were a dream I would try and find you,
Try and capture you never let you fly away,
And i know one day you must go,
And i dont know when im not sure,
But i know i will never be far away.

I will never leave you I will follow you,
It's all because of you.

With you I never cry. In you I can confide,
You pray for me a night,
Never thought i would feel like this, Because of you

It's all because of you.
