Lay Low

Wait, somebody said that I could stay
There's still room left for me
I thought that I'd leave long ago
But this place is the one I know
It's never quite ever right

Everyone take a step aside
We all know just what it's like
When nothing is the one thing
That we keep on finding
Curl up in imagination
God if we were all that patient

Lay low
Everyone needs the chance to
Say so
This is all I can take
Ease up on your heart its breaking
Everything that you've been saying
Yeah yeah yeah

Strange, there's nothing here
That is the same
I had it so well planned
A young girls eyes can't see the change
That crosses time and comes with age
If we only had it right the first time

Everyone take a step aside
We all know just what it's like
When nothing is the one thing
That we keep on finding
Curl up in imagination
God if we were all that patient

Lay low
Everyone needs the chance to
Say so
This is all I can take

Ease up on your heart it's breaking
Everything that you've been saying
Yeah yeah yeah
