Did you see me standing there outside your door
Did you see the note I left upon your floor
Wonder why you have to go it all alone
Wonder why you think that nobody'd know

I will never let you down
Until I know you're safe and sound
Come away with me
Come away with me

Where my words are like water
Drown you when I say love
Where everything is everything you imagine
And it's beautiful every time

Tell me you can still see the world outside
Tell me how the stars run across the sky
Try and let you know that you still belong
Try and let you know that this is your song

Close your eyes and count to ten
I know that you remember when
Come away with me
Come away with me

Where my words are like water
Drown you when I say love
Where everything is everything you imagine
And it's beautiful every time

Someone is watching over you
Someone is watching over you
