A farmer and a teacher, a hooker and a preacher Ridin' on a midnight bus bound for Mexico
One was headin' for vacation, one for higher education
And two of them were searchin' for lost souls

That driver never ever saw the stop sign And 18 wheelers can't stop on a dime

There are three wooden crosses on the right side of the highway
Why there's not four of them Heaven only knows
I guess it's not what you take when you leave this world behind you
It's what you leave behind you when you go

That farmer left a harvest, a home and 80 acres
The faith and love for growin' things in his young son's heart
And that teacher left her wisdom in the minds of lots of children
Did her best to give 'em all a better start

And that preacher whispered, "Can't you see the promised land?"
As he lay his blood stained Bible in that hooker's hand

There are three wooden crosses on the right side of
the highway
Why there's not four of them Heaven only knows
I guess it's not what you take when you leave this world
behind you
It's what you leave behind you when you go

That's the story that our preacher told last Sunday As he held that blood stained Bible up for all of us to see He said, "Bless the farmer and the teacher and the preacher who gave this Bible to my momma who read it to me"

There are three wooden crosses on the right side of
the highway

Why there's not four of them now I guess we know It's not what you take when you leave this world behind you
It's what you leave behind you when you go

the highway
