A photograph... A feel inside...
All the memories are burning bright...
Oh God I wish I could make you see
A whole castle was built on your sheen

I'm getting hopeless as days are going by Nothing can help me to dream you mine
I don't even know you, I never touched you
But it feels so damn right...

Sweet November's bitter wind
Covered you up and took you away
Oh, this is real and now it's clear

You were an illusion of my wish

Unreachable...
Unforgettable...

I can't let you out from my dreams
Though I can't be the person who I wanted to be
But it's real, runs so deep
You are the dream I couldn't reach

I still remember, I always will
The feel and the smile I could never reach
Now it's clear, pain to feel
You are the dream I couldn't reach
