"Enough"

Visit "Enough" on MotoLyrics.com

How strong must I be, Lord?
How much more of this can I take?
I thought this was over
There must be some kind of mistake

I found a solution to stop myself from losing
All the little tricks I learned to stop myself from burning
I thought it was cool - had my own golden rule
But now it's all in pieces - Lord won't You release me

Let me swim in Your ocean, let me swim in mercy

How long will it be, Lord?
I don't really dig this stuff
It's time for me to move now
Don't You think I've had enough?

I got a little crazy - everything was hazy
Thought that I would lose my mind, but the light was blinding
If I have to change, does it have to be so strange?
Shadows in the back room - voices in the black gloom

Let me run out in the silence, let me run in silence

How wrong have I been, Lord?
Will it always be this rough?
It's time for this to end now
Don't You think I've had enough?
