Long ago , I drew a line into the sand , Jumped across and held your hand , Band of gold protect us from the bitter tide , That comes to wash away our words with time

Hello you
Hello me
Hello Hello
can't you see
Love is more than what it seems
So I wear your promise ring

Promises made under the rite of spring , Heavy under summer's sting , Say you know , I'd run to where the spaceships land , A million miles between my mouth and hand

Hello you
Hello me
Hello Hello
can't you see
Love is more than what it seems
So I wear your promise ring

Love labors through the night , It bleeds and never fights , And like a seed it lives because it dies

So don't forget , just like cash
I walk the line , Like a soldier guarding what is mine

Hello you
Hello me
Hello Hello
can't you see
Love is more than what it seems
So I wear your promise ring
