When everything's alright and OK
You know, we have to make things worse
If variety is the spice of life
Then what we're using does not work

We make things worse
And we make things worse
We make things worse

We've been reduced to late night romance
Lighted by TV screens
And I'm convinced that my not knowing how to dance
Has fumbled up all your dreams

We make things seem worse than they were
We make things worse
Have we made things worse?

But we've got something here
Yeah, yeah
We've got something here
I won't walk out the door
I won't hang up
It would be too easy just to give up
We've got something here
Let's go
