For 23 years
I've looked down the long road
Where the only things that I've known
Are the things I've been shown

Now I'm scared to know more
And I'm scared to stay
And the long road keeps calling me everyday

And the seasons keep changing
Tides still come in
Whether living or dying
There is world without end

Whether in happiness or sorrow
I will say everything's fine
And if there's one thing for sure
This is no standard life

December again
It's my birthday with friends
And the friends keep on changing
It seems like a sin

But it's human nature to change in the heart
The only thing you can't change is the place that you start

And the seasons keep changing
Tides still come in
Whether living or dying
There is world without end

Whether in happiness or sorrow
I will say everything's fine
And if there's one thing for sure
This is no standard life

The hint of new days hangs round
Like the last few fall leaves suspended above the ground

When winter comes rushing through
What will I do with myself?
Where will I go?
Will I change?
Will I transcend who I am?
Will I rebuild myself into a better man?
A better man than me

And the seasons keep changing
Tides still come in
Whether living or dying
There is world without end

Whether in happiness or sorrow
I will say everything's fine
And if there's one thing for sure
This is no standard life

Sometimes I just want to be alone
Sometimes I just want to be alone
Tonight I just want to be alone
Alone, alone
