If they told me, paint a picture
Well, I wouldn't have a clue
But a little word from you, from you
Just a little lovin' word from you
I could paint the whole darn town for you
For you, for you

And if they told me, lead an army
I could lose a war or two
But a little smile from you, from you
Just a little lovin' smile from you
I'd go out and fight the world for you
For you, for you

I never had ambition
To get up, go and do
But since you crossed my vision
I do, I do, I do

Oh, if they told me, build a castle
I would answer, no can do
But a little kiss from you, from you
Just a little lovin' kiss from you
I could build a life of love for two
For you, for you

(Whistles)

Well, I never had ambition
To get up and go and do
But since you crossed my vision
I do do do do, I really do

If they told me, build a castle
I would answer, no can do
But a little kiss from you, from you
Just a little lovin' kiss from you
I could build a life of love for two
For you, for you
Maybe for three
Or four or more

For you, for you
