I will make you understand Anyway I can start my day, Felling good and I'm on it but I'm finding out that its all the same, cuz I'm getting old and I want it.
Rolling over and over now, Cant waste another moment, got to hit the spot,
before we miss our shot hope we don't blow it
the mask comes off,
now I see you as you are even after a hard days work, I can still find some comfort in ya, lying in an unmade bed, the tangled web that you weave for me, Ear-to-ear though I usually smile, you saw me cry for a moment, then you pissed me of in a different way, ending soon and I know it

the mask comes off,
now I see you as you are

Remember the times you said, that we would all be friends, now I realize,
it was justified,
and now the time has come,
go back where you are from,
starting over,
you want me to stay
Justified
