I'm calling your name my darling
Calling out loud
It seems that I've lost
Waiting to be found
Calling to the mountains
I am calling to the sea
Won't you come home my lovely
Come to me

I may be a weak man
But I've got a heart of gold

This is my song I have composed for you
This is my love and I shall see it through
See it through the valley
I shall see it through the stars

I may be a weak man
But I've got a heart of gold
And I will let it shine
Until you come home

I've been down low
I've been up high
Drowned in sorrow
I have touched the sky
I will do it all over
I will do it again
What ever it takes to see your face again
