If there's a hole in your soul,
You gotta fill it.
If your cup is over flowin'
Don't spill it.
You better hold her while
The whole world's spinning around.

And when your eyes look down on another,
Just remember that he's your own brother
This kind of love ain't gonna go under
I've found that when you love one another
Only good rain comes down

And if you feel like you've stopped learning,
If the wood in your fire ain't burning,
Better spark another match,
Start turning your wheel.
Better turn it towards righteous living
Stop taking and start your giving.
Yeah, this is the one thing missing.
I feel that loving one another is the only thing real.

Don't let your blessings turn into stone.
That kind of living will leave you all alone.
If there's a hole in your soul,
You gotta fill it.
If your cup is over flowin'
Don't spill it.
You better hold her while
The whole world's spinning around.

Don't let your blessings turn into stone.
That kind of living will leave you all alone.
When your heart is troubled by feeling,
Yeah, remember there's a way to spark healing.
Yeah the first step is when you start believing it's real.
Yeah, this is the one thing missing.
I feel that loving one another is the only thing real.
