I place my hands in mudra
I'm sorry that they abuse ya
I'll pray for the sky to break
For you to escape into a new one
I still raise my flags while the soldiers load their mags
We need to stop the cry of the orphan callin for her dad
Lets clean the slate, it's never too late

You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction

The doctors give the pills
But the pills don't have the will
To take the pain out of the brain
They just make the brain insane
And still they distribute the poison
It kills the creative voices
When will we finally silence all of these violent noises
So oh now, the source needs to be found

You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction
You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction

Violence is bringing us down
It's bringin us six feet under ground
But we think we're alive and breathing
When we're talking we're actually screaming When will we make a change, things need to be rearranged
I don't want to live the rest of my life hiding in shame
So can you see the child's eyes, are you really that blind?

You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction
You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction
You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction

Shiva Shiva Shiva Shambo
The war is finally over, all of the soldiers can go home Oh peace it speaks beneath the trees and leaves and now we're on a loving tone
Hail Hari, Hail Hari Krishna
For putting the love in all of the hearts of all of our brothers and sisters
Now that we're freedom bound we finally found the road that comes from the winter

You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction, of destruction
You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction, of destruction
You're leaving nothing for the youth
Just the proof, of destruction

Today was the first day that the people wiped their tears
Now that we've found our home land we can finally live without fear
Love it runs within our blood
We've found the shelter, our kingdom
All are welcome all can come, to our palace on the sun
