

Trevor Hall

"When The Sun And Moon Collide"

Visit "When The Sun And Moon Collide" on MotoLyrics.com

In this chapter there's no reality, it's just a son
Everybody's got no words, they just can't sing along
I've been trying to figure out how this all really goes
Trying to see fire so I can melt this awful snow

[Chorus:]

I have a dream when the sky is blue
And I'll be coming home to you
And never hate the stars
But there's no gas in my car
But I'm still tryin, to find out
What this song is, about

No matter how many books I read
I can't seem to find out what is good
I guess I'll have to climb this beanstock
And see if I have the clue

[Chorus, but a bit different this time]

I have a dream when the sky is blue
And I'll be coming home to you
And never hate the stars
But there's no gas in my car
And when we think we know it all
I was standing up for a fall
Cause' when the sun and moon collide
I wanna see you with open eyes
But I'm still tryin, to find out
What this song is, about

Visit Trevor Hall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.