(Terri)
When he's not home
Means we move around as we please But when he gets home the blood that's in my head will freeze
A big bottle's empty Another one is still full
And when that's all gone someone's sure to get it in the end
And when he's home he's home it's not a home
It's just a madhouse anyway
It's two o'clock
Mom says we can stay home again
But at six o'clock we'd rather be at school again
A hand looms higher
Than a little face, it's 'cause
He knows this child wishes he wasn't here today
