I thought I had it beat, I thought I was cured
I didn't feel the need for you anymore
I had an iron will so I dropped my guard
Then I found I still had you in my heart

And I gave up, I tried my best
It's time to admit I'm powerless, but

Hey, I'm gonna be fine
Takin' it one step at a time
And prayin' you right off of my mind
If only for today, well

Well, I may never be free
It's a lifelong recovery
But when I think of you and me
At least I cut it down to every other memory

Once a habit's formed, man, it's hard to quit
I'm countin' on the Lord to help me forget
His tender kiss and the way we touched
I tried to resist but I'm not strong enough

Little by little I'm facing the facts
It's two steps forward and a one step back, but

Hey, I'm gonna be fine
Takin' it one step at a time
And prayin' you right off of my mind
If only for today

And I may never be free
It's a lifelong recovery
But when I think of you and me
At least I cut it down to every other memory

Hey, I'm gonna be fine
And takin' it one step at a time
And prayin' you right off of my mind
If only for today, well

Well, I may never be free

It's a lifelong recovery
But when I think of you and me
At least I cut it down to every other memory

At least I cut it down to every other memory
Oh, every other memory
Every other memory
