I see right through you like you are made of glass Now she won't reply Obsessed with the beauty you illness spreads
No one can save you now no one can save you no one can save you now
No one but yourself can save you now Sick thoughts run through your mind when will this ever stop
Every pill seems more bitter than the last this vile mind is dark
This is the perfect time to lie perfect disguise
This torment never ends live with this till you die
She tells me everything
