You pray for your world to be whole - You're picking up the pieces of a shattered memory that you lost long - ago - And You're waiting for some one to save you - But no one is going to save you so you might as well save your self - just like we do - Now you're Covered in sorrow washing it off again - Just like before
- Wash it off - You would kill for a heart made of stone - Because every time you get back Up there is some there to put you - right where you fell - And now you've locked your self up in your heart - And your never going to let someone Back inside to put you right at - the start - You're covered in sorrow washing it off again - Just like before
- You're covered in sorrow washing it off Again - Just like before - You're covered in sorrow - Now wash it off
