we sit here alone
we torture ourselves
we think about how we got here we stare at the stars
remember the past
we linger and long for it to come back

AGAIN!! singing please, please come back AGAIN
whatever that was i hope i feel it again....

we pick up our phones and scroll through the numbers looking for names that aren't there of people we should have asked to come over but we were too busy trying to make it happen

yeah, isn't it strange when you think of the fact that we all just live here to die....yeah cuz it hurts when you love it hurts when you hate and it's all part of something that they tell me is great that i never could trust, still i played it to win knowing that we might never be here AGAIN!

we might never be here...AGAIN and so we do it again and again and again and again....
