"Prince Of Light"

there lived a young girl with beauty in her eyes she dreamed about the day when someone would sweep her heart away to the land of summer light as time unfolds into the past her heart of loneliness stands waiting for that day to come at last Prince of light, oh, Prince of light, oh
Prince of Light, oh, touch my life, oh Prince of peace, oh, let it be, oh Prince of Peace, oh
come to me, to me
she seems Him in her mind the Prince of Peace comes riding through the heartland, bathed in holy light but then she sees the clothes that she wears the dirt, the rags, the stains, the tears oh why would someone care
Prince of light, oh, Prince of light, oh
Prince of Light, oh, touch my life, oh
Prince of peace, oh, let it be, oh
Prince of Peace, oh
come to me, to me
the dream comes to an end she sits in silence once again and wonders her heart breaks but it will bend and quietly a voice says "Child, you know that I made that choice when I gave my life for you." Prince of light, Prince of Light, Prince of Light Prince of light, touch my life, my life Prince of Peace, let it be Prince of Peace
