I can still recall the first time when i saw you, there was something bout' your eyes.
Something bout' your eyes that made me call you, like a fire in the skies.

What else could I do? This feeling was new.

Oh, I saw it clearly we were meant to be.
I called you up, said Robert, it's Marie.

From that moment you were never far away, all I cared about was you.
You were on my mind which mean it night and day.
There was nothing I could do.

All my friends used to say love could not stand this way.

Oh, still I know that we were meant to be.
We'll be forever Robert and Marie.

It was long ago, but I can still remember all the things we used to do.
Everything I wrote have been returned to sender.
How can I get trough to you?

It's so hard to go on. Did I do something wrong?

Oh, why cant you see that we were meant to be?
We'll be forever Robert and Marie.
