Now I guess there's something wrong:
All stars fall down the story ends
Maybe there'll be another song
Though nothing's left but somnolence
And I'm so tired and worn out
Sometimes I feel like Hawkeye Pierce
I try to laugh among the tears

How I'm trying not to think of you night and day
But with each breath your last words come my way
Will I ever trust in anyone again?
Some say treasures are hidden behind sorrow and pain

Til the end of December
I'll be waiting for you
And I cannot longer stay here
Amongst your broken promises
Another planet's calling
I'll be gone with the rain
Til the end of December
I'll be waiting for you
Oh, believe me that I will wait
Til the end of December

You made me tumble made me fall
And though I seem to understand
I crash my head against the wall
How could this vow of yours disband?
And how much longer will I stand
Lying awake in sleepless nights
I wish I could replace my mind...

But it won't last forever
So my friends do say
Step by step I'm getting by
And though sometimes my heart still sticks to yesterday
I hold on to my dream and I'll be riding again

Til the end of December
I'll be waiting for you
And I cannot longer stay here

Amongst your broken promises
Another planet's calling
I'll be gone with the rain
Til the end of December
I'll be waiting for you
And I guess I can wait
For sure I will wait
Til the end of December
Til my hearts beats again
I won't surrender

You don't want me anymore
So I walk out of your door
I don't want to hear one more pathetic excuse
You didn't give me just one chance
I should have known by clairvoyance
From the first time you didn't wear the ring anymore

Good luck to you
So long, Farewell, Goodbye
I won't come back again
You were not the one I searched for
But I know I will find her

Til the end of December
I'll be waitng for you
And I cannot longer stay here
I'll be waiting for you
And I got strength to endure
All the love that I have will show me the way
Til my heart beats again I know I'll obtain
