

Lincoln

"Terminal E"

Visit "Terminal E" on MotoLyrics.com

Boarded a train to Terminal E
To get on a plane and fly me far from here
Looked out the window at the falling rain
Head to sunny California to forget about the grey

It's all that you'll find
I'm coming to terms with the truth
That you'll never be mine
I think it's alright
That I've been walking around
With a secret in the back of my mind
Alright, it's true, I'm still in love with you

Sometimes a biggest regret
Are the things in life that could have been the best
If I could take back that one night
Oh, I would make it right
Oh, if I could make things alright

It's all that you'll find
I'm coming to terms with the truth
That you'll never be mine
I think it's alright
That I've been walking around
With a secret in the back of my mind
I hope you can see I wish you still loved me

It's all that you'll find
I'm coming to terms with the truth
That you'll never be mine
I think it's alright
That I've been walking around
With a secret in the back of my mind
Alright, you know, I fell in love again

Boarded a train to Terminal E
To get on a plane to fly me far from you

Visit Lincoln page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
