

Linda Arnold

"Beautifully Undone"

Visit "Beautifully Undone" on MotoLyrics.com

I don't remember what it used to be like
The things that I'm not proud of
And the only reason I kept coming back to you
Was 'cause I thought I was in love

But I don't think about you anymore
And I wonder what the hell I came here for
When I'd rather just fall right off of your floor
And come beautifully undone

I don't recall San Francisco at all
It falls right from my memory
And the only place that really exists
Is where you thought you'd found me

But I don't think about you anymore
And I wonder what the hell I came here for
When I'd rather just fall right off of your floor
And come beautifully...undone

But I don't think about you anymore
And I wonder what the hell I came here for
When I'd rather just fall right off your floor
And come beautifully undone
Beautifully undone...

Visit Linda Arnold page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.