Laugh at what you did today, it's all been done before
Lift your hands into the clouds, you're even in the score
The swimmin' pool's without a drain, you look at how the water stays
You think again, you think the same your steps become a fall

Like a kid in the store with her fingers glued
She said her passion was splashed with sin
It's a final shame, shame, shame

If I die now, before I get old
Let the people remember that, I was told
To stick with things that made them proud
It's a final shame, shame

Last chance, you're there as you lose your motivation
And all you've got to do is let it go
Last phase, an' every little way to find you
But all you've got to do is let it go

Take the time to feel the pain, it's all been done before
Put your head into the game, you're even in the score
Let your secrets out to try the crash you feel when you deny
The lastin' thought is, all you hear, your eagerness survives

Like a kid in the store with her fingers glued
She said, her passion was splashed with sin
It's a final shame, shame, shame

If I die now, before I get old
Let the people remember that, I was told
To stick with things that made them proud
It's a final shame, shame

Last chance, you're there as you lose your motivation
And all you've got to do is let it go
Your last phase an' every little way to find you

But all you've got to do is let it go

Last phase an' every little way to find you

But all you've got to do is let it go

And all you've got to do is let it show
