My decision your decision
There's no common ground
I'm sick and tired myself

Don't wake me up don't wave bye bye
Don't jump inside my head this time
I wanna get through this, day ah ah

Singing all those words around drives
My smile right to the ground
I wanna give it away

You make it good but you make me
Crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy
Wanna slap the world and slam it down

Look at all the million people
In the middle of a golden steeple
I am amazed

Well, it might be wrong
But it may be right
Look at us just passing time

Don't let your love fall on down
On my umbrella
I'll say don't let your love fall on down
On my umbrella, yeah, dig it

Look at all the million people
In the middle of a golden steeple
I am amazed

Well, it might be wrong
But it may be right
Look at us just passing time

You make it good but you make me
Crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy
Wanna slap the world and slam it down
You make it good but you make me
To high, to try, to show me the way

Running through
A built-in maze ending up
At the starting place I left behind ah ah

Stop and try to catch my breath while I'm Looking for my next step
I slip away, I slip away

You make it good but you make me
Crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy, crazy
Wanna slap the world and slam it down

Don't let your love fall on down
On my umbrella, I'll say
Don't let your love fall on down
On my umbrella
You'll throw it away

I'll say you'll say, you'll throw it away
No, no, go, no, I'm like a child and I'm lost
For the first time

You say, don't let your love fall down
On my umbrella, yeah
You say, don't let your love fall down
On my umbrella, yeah

You say, don't let your love fall down
On my umbrella, yeah
You say
