[Nelly]

Yeah

Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

Yeah, yeah, let's go

[Chorus: Nelly] + {*Spandau Ballet "True" sample*}

Ohhhhh! And they say, ohhhhh-ohhh

Oahhh-ohhhh, yeahhhh

Ohhhhh! And they say, ohhhhh-ohhh

Oahhh-ohhhh

[Nelly]

Hold up, stop ma, let me get a look at'cha

Damn girl, I ain't seen you since prom

Come to think about it, can't believe it's been that long

I heard your man locked down now, how long he gone?

Oh that long? How the hell'd he get time like that

Three strikes with possession - aw he ain't comin back

He left you with two kids and bills all around

Plus you found out he had another chick 'cross town

It's always the darkest, ah-right before the sunrisin

And you gotta stay strong, for the kids in they eyes and

And please don't despise, and go against all brothers

And have a hatred in your heart and take it out on another

I hate to sound Tupac-ish lil' mama, but +Keep Ya Head
Up+

But you gon' make it, I promise - you keep your head up

And that that don't kill you only makes you stronger

And the will to succeed'll only feed the hunger, f'real

{*echoes*}

Hey

[Chorus]

[Nelly]

I was at the gas station when a man walked past

With a sign "will work for food, clothes or cash"

And he asked if he could pump my gas - so I let him

Clean the windshield and throw out the trash - so I let him

Hey, I even asked the brother his name
Where he was from, got kids man and what's they ages
He kinda sturred for a second, he kinda looked surprise
That anyone would even take an interest in his life
He said, "Young brother dem the only wurrds, I done hurrd, in the last yurr that wasn't low or get the fuck away from hurr"
How could somethin so simple as general conversation mean much more than general conversation? Hey
You could tell life had beaten him down
Like he was in a title fight and this might be his last round
Sometimes the easiest things we take for granted
Until they gone, to realize we even had it, f'real
{*echoes*}
Hey

[Chorus]

[Nelly]

I used to think that life had a plan for me
Until I realized, life meant to be planned by me
See that's the key, I only deal with what I can see Cause over history, mystery brought us nuttin but mystery
Man mo' people done died, in the name of the Lord
Than in any natural disaster, disease or gang war
Before guns there was swords, and they was killin each other
Ain't much changed since the days, we still killin each
other
Killin our brothers while another mother cries for help
Man, we need to help a brother find himself
Feed him, life, ah-one-twoooo, three Hey, that's somethin e'ry brother should see, and that's f'real {*echoes*}
Hey

[Chorus]
