O come ye now unto The Flame
Keep it through the night
Nourish it and share its warmth
And spend its precious light

The torch is passed among us all
To help us understand
A covenant of brotherhood
That joins our open hand

O come ye now unto The Flame
Keep it through the night
Nourish it and share its warmth
And spend its precious light

Eager souls are rising now
Hungry for the wind
Each heart knows eternal love
Will bring us home again
Will bring us home again

Eager souls are rising now
Hungry for the wind
Each heart knows eternal love
Will bring us home again
Will bring us home again
