"Coal Mine Canary"

Drag yourself down the hallway
Hum your best holy hymn
You'll find sun as the day breaks
And more of a will to live

Run your hands through some water
Take the blue pill with tea
All the while keeping time with the throbbing inside your heart

When that coal mine canary quits her sweet lullaby
Don't be alarmed, just you run for your life

Pull the fan from the ceiling
Feel the blood flow return
There's a reason for failing to flee from your post too soon

You've been too long with angels
You can never repay
You've been too long in search of a cure for this human stain

When that coal mine canary quits her sweet lullaby
Don't be alarmed, just you run for your life
When that coal mine canary quits her sweet lullaby
I won't be scared, gonna run for my life
