

Lindsey Cook

"Small Town Theory"

Visit "Small Town Theory" on MotoLyrics.com

Tries to escape the darkness
Keeps running on till dawn
One look back at the madness
Can't take it anymore

Try to make a break for it alright
You could leave it all behind tonight

He wants to show them badly
He can't amount to something
His time of ticking boxes
Gives all but just gets nothing
He's tired of all the comments
Small minds and blame could I's
Can't take the small town theory
Can't face the empty sky

Try to make a break for it alright
You could leave it all behind tonight
Will always be the darkest dreams
When your lying awake to scared to sleep
You could make a break for it tonight

What you want?
What you want from me?
Take my heart
Take my everything
All my life I've been waiting for tonight

Try to make a break for it alright
You could leave it all behind tonight

Try to make a break for it alright
You could leave it all behind tonight
Will always be the darkest dreams
When your lying awake to scared to sleep
You could make a break for it [X6]
You could make a break for it tonight

