I might run off at any given time
Don't leave no notes, there ain't no reason to lie
Guess I haven't found what I'm looking for Can't keep my hands to myself, or my eyes off the door

Is it any wonder that I'm on to the next?
I'll be the first one to tell you and the last to forget
Don't let me drag you into this bitterness
Sometimes I don't even understand the half of it

Don't work yourself up, don't work yourself up
Don't work yourself up too much, too much love
Don't work yourself up, don't work yourself up
Don't work yourself up too much, too much love

Sometimes I can't stand to be apart
I walk around this city alone 'til it's dark
And if the sadness won't ever go away
I suppose I'll build it a home so it has a nice place to stay

Most of time I don't mind the company
But God I wish you would stay, why do you have to leave?
Seems like we always want what we can't have
Well, that's just life baby, you can't get mad

No one to blame
And nothing here to see
You don't call, I don't blame you
I don't even trust me

Don't work yourself up, don't work yourself up
Don't work yourself up too much, too much love
Don't work yourself up, don't work yourself up
Don't work yourself up too much, too much

I want to love you but I don't know how
I want to love you but I don't know how
I want to love you but I don't know how
I want to love you but I don't know how

Oh, yes it happens
All the time, all the time, all the time
Oh, yes it happens
All the time, all the time, all the time
