Hey boy where you're leaving to
Always leaving all the time
Wanna get caught up to you
Gonna figure how to make you mine

Know I love it when we're together
Don't it always feel so right
Love to fall asleep when you hold me
Wake up and make love in the morning time

Saying love, love is a funny thing
When you're taking more than you can bring
Saying love, love is a funny thing
Oh don't get caught up in the moment
'Cause boy, I got your love right here
Don't blow it, blow it, blow it, oh no no
No baby don't you blow it

And hey boy, how come you feel this way
For a little longer I will try to make you stay
Don't wanna make this hard
But I'm so wound up I might fall apart

You know girls go wild for your east coast style
Happens more than once in a while
Think I know just where you're coming from
Up against the wall with my clothes all coming undone

Saying love, love is a funny thing
When you're taking more than you can bring
Saying love, love is a funny thing
Don't get caught up in the moment
'Cause boy, I got your love right here
Don't blow it, blow it, blow it, oh no no
No baby don't you blow it now

And now I'm picking up the pieces that you left behind
And it ain't so easy when you're flooding my mind
I try to stay steady but I love my grip
You got the kind of love that ain't easy to quit
Never hesitate to be taking it slow

You got the moves putting on one hell of a show
Always stopping by, never letting me know
But the end you got me begging baby please don't go
No don't go, no baby don't go now

'Cause I'm talking about love
Love is a funny thing
When you're taking more than you can bring
Saying love, love is a funny thing
Don't get caught up in the moment
'Cause boy, I got your love right here
Don't blow it, blow it, blow it, oh no no
No baby don't you blow it now

Now it's blowing in the wind
Oh it's blowing in the wind
Tell me what did I get myself into this time
'Cause it's blowing in the wind
It's blowing in the wind
Don't get caught up in the moment
'Cause boy I got your love right here
Don't blow it, blow it
