

Linus

"Flawless Victory"

Visit "Flawless Victory" on MotoLyrics.com

you took my breath away and I've never felt so empty like I do now. it feels my failures never end

games for years i've played and lost gained 30 lives but at what cost? all these fears i've tied to my heels they slowly pull me down i wanna try but it never makes it easier i walked through fire but it's never good enough for her even though i don't know why my best-laid plans will go awry i turn my head up to the sky i cross my heart and hope to try i promise this will be my flawless victory

my opportunities are far and few between my heightened hopes and all my countless broken dreams maybe it's time for me to grow up and face the music there's more to life than building up and letting myself down this time there's no counting on hindsight and my excuses don't make things alright

Visit Linus page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.