I hate to say the feelin' is gone
And everyday I can't keep holding on
I hope that's somethin' your heart will allow

I didn't mean to do it
I should have known from the start
I never should have put you through it
Sometimes I just don't know

What rules my heart
What rules my heart
What rules my heart
What rules my heart

Mistreatin' you was such a crime
I know this hurt will heal in time
But I know that's a small consolation right now

I didn't mean to do it
I should have known from the very start
I never should have put you through it
Sometimes I just don't know

What rules my heart
What rules my heart
What rules my heart
I need to know what rules my heart

Over and over again
I try to tell, you girl
I just don't know, I just don't know
What tore us apart

What rules my heart
What rules my heart
What rules my heart
What rules my heart

What rules my heart
What rules my heart, baby
Rules my heart
What rules my heart

What rules my heart
