

Lips, The "God Was A Dog"

Visit "God Was A Dog" on MotoLyrics.com

God took another photograph of my face and laughed,
he said "Look at what you've done.
To all the people joining you, on their rides right through,
a life made by my son.

And did you ever take the time to love yourself and see,
all of life's beauty? Life's reality?"

Well I've discovered all but..

As I stumbled cross this heaven place,
I only found solace.
I felt somewhere out of place.
I saw only little butterflies, stuck between the lines,
of emotions on my face.

(Chorus)

Well I felt as if I understood, lacing up my hood,
I felt I thought I should retreat.
To everybody listening, this is my Christening.
I've stumbled out of me.

(Chorus)

Well I've discovered all but..
me.

Visit Lips, The page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.