Defeat grips you
Life deflates you
Killed your hopes too
You won't make it through

Pick up the pieces
There is a better way
Put yourself together
Try to make a change

This world's so twisted
You can still make a change
Protect and care for all around
Stop the spread of hate

You feel like the broken one
Over and over again
You taste blood, you're through, you're done
Only you can make it end

Can't let it stay
Kills more each day
Amputate pain
Tear it all away

Pick up the pieces
There is a better way
Put yourself together
Try to make a change

This world's so twisted
You can still make a change
Protect and care for all around
Stop the spread of hate
You feel like the broken one
Over and over again
You taste blood, you're through, you're done
Only you can make it end(Over and over again...)

Pick up the pieces
There is a better way
Put yourself together

Try to make a change

This world's so twisted
You can still make a change
Protect and care for all around
Stop the spread of hate

You feel like the broken one
Over and over again
You taste blood, you're through, you're done
Only you can make it end
You feel like the broken one
Over and over again(Over and over again...)
You taste blood, you're through, you're done
Only you can make it end(Over and over again, Over and over again...)
